

Workcloud Inventory Visibility Retail Returns Management

In this era of rapid retail change, customer expectations are rapidly changing as well. With many customers buying a great deal of merchandise online, and with up to 15% of their purchases ending up returned, it's difficult to manage such an influx of returned products. Despite your best efforts, such a deluge of returns can strain your distribution centers, placing undue pressure on your employees.

Are inadequate processes compounding your challenges?

Labor-intensive steps consume time and money

Redundant touchpoints add complexity

Lack of real-time insight exposes you to fraud and excessive return rates

Errors impact profit margins and inventory decisions

Transform Return Management with Zebra

Workcloud Inventory Visibility Retail Returns Management streamlines how you handle retail returns by immediately capturing return data, speeding up the process of sorting returns, and providing instant visibility into the status of your returns.

With Zebra, become a retail leader by tackling the return challenge head on, simplifying processes for your employees and ensuring that all returns are managed in a streamlined and orderly manner.
